

Aboard a ship named Truth, Spyder carries the Lady Cassandra on her crusade to stop the Righteous Order of Piety Purists from enslaving the system in a sexless, joyless existence. But the Pietists want her dead and will sacrifice anything and anyone to kill her.

Their determination to destroy his Lady, her ship, and its crew puts Spyder's and everyone else's life at risk.

Given a choice between slavery and ostracization, Jessica chooses to kneel naked before her department head so she can continue studying for her PhD in psychology. That decision takes her down a dark path to abuse, exploitation, and torment of both her body and her spirit.

She "writes with authority and compassion about those who live within the lifestyle." — Elizabeth Coldwell

When a sweet, intelligent twenty-five year old with undiagnosed Asperger and PTSD seeks help from a ruthless, unscrupulous, sadistic therapist, she shatters his psyche and throws him into a suicidal depression.

Her crude attempt to pick up the pieces — enslaving him and subjecting him to unethical, unsanctioned, experiments — ignores the lines of consent.

Jesse enjoys playing with dolls and wearing girls' clothing and everyone from his parents to his teachers, friends, and neighbors assumes he will grow up gay. As an adult, the burden of those assumptions hampers his ability to come to terms with his sexuality.

A must read for anyone who ever had to learn how to be comfortable in their own skin.

From fairy tales to modern legal tradition, society demands we love exclusively, even though many only find happiness with multiple partners. Linda finally confronts long neglected sexual needs when Phil forces himself on her in Chicago. But back in Portland, her husband's insistence on monogamy compels her to choose between his limitations and her own insatiable desires.
